

CCS Media Services

Know-how and support for exceptional IT

Your go-to partner for Lifecycle IT Services

Your IT has a lifespan. From the small things like your devices and printers through to the fundamentals you need for your business to run, like your storage, network, and compute – everything has a beginning and an end. Being able to count on reliable support is reassuring as you respond to new demands and develop your business for a digital future. It's also a vital ingredient in the pursuit of exceptional IT.

We're there for every stage of your IT's life, whether you're acquiring new technology, looking to deploy a complex rollout, want to streamline the management of your IT estate, or simply need to dispose of your assets. And regardless of where your solution lives, if that's in the cloud, on-premises, or even a bit of both, our excellent Lifecycle IT Services ensure everything is optimised to work at its best. So, from the moment you've chosen it all the way through to retirement, you know you're releasing every bit of value from your investment.

We harness powerful partnerships

We have years of experience delivering IT to businesses of all sizes from almost every industry. But we don't do it alone – we've gathered an impressive ecosystem of partners to complement our know-how. A team of world-leading specialists and best-of-breed providers primed to support the lifecycle of your IT from start to finish. Our partnerships are founded on years of trust and respect, many of them spanning more than a decade. Each partner is rigorously vetted so you can be sure of their credentials, and the breadth of capability we access means you're never tied to a single vendor, so can genuinely benefit from solutions best suited to your business, and at the best price.

From acquisition to end of life

We offer everything you need to achieve exceptional IT

Acquisition

Technology selection can be one of the biggest headaches and that's before you get into the business of best value commercials. We make the acquisition of new technology easy, giving you all the advice and guidance you need to choose and procure the perfect IT for your business.

Deployment

Good deployment sets you up right for the future. We make sure whatever you're on-boarding works with what you already have, doesn't disrupt your business, and works from the word go. Importantly, we ensure your team is fully trained, helping you realise the full benefits of your new technology.

Management

Keeping your IT in the best possible shape takes dedication and care. We can monitor, tune, and remediate everything you depend on to see that it continues to perform as you need.

Disposal

When technology reaches its end of life, responsible disposal protects both your business and the environment. All of our disposal services adhere to the latest standards, ensure your data is never at risk, and help unlock residual value to help towards your next purchase.